Civil Air Patrol senior members have an elective aerospace education program. The publications containing information on aerospace education for senior members are CAP Regulation 50-17, CAP Regulation 280-2, and CAP Pamphlet 215. Seniors may participate in the Aerospace Education program for Senior Members (AEPSM) and earn the Charles E. "Chuck" Yeager Aerospace Education Achievement Award (see CAPR 280-2). Seniors may earn the "Technician," "Senior," or "Master" ratings in the 215 Aerospace Education Officer Specialty Training Track (see CAPP 215). Seniors may use attendance at a National Conference on Aviation and Space Education, attendance at a Region Aerospace Education Conference or preparing an aerospace manuscript for publication, to fulfill certain senior member training program progression requirements (see CAPR 50-17).

The screenshot shows the Civil Air Patrol Online Test System interface. It has a dark blue header with the CAP logo and the text "Civil Air Patrol Online Test System". A left sidebar contains links for "Home" and "Test Reports & Certificates". The main content area is white and contains a light blue box titled "Online Test System". Inside this box are three input fields: "Select Test:" (a dropdown menu), "CAPID:" (a text box), and "Last Name:" (a text box). Below these fields is a "Start Test" button. At the bottom of the page, there is a security warning in small text: "Users who receive a Security Alert Warning each time you access one of the secure web pages on this server may need to install the DoD Root CA Certificate. Click Here for more information on how to eliminate this warning."
